Open Positions: Child Care Teacher

We are seeking a qualified individual to join our positive team of high quality early childhood educators. Must be flexible; hours will depend on the center's need.

YWCA Child Care is a Reggio Emilia inspired child care community and is licensed for 150 children.

Qualified candidates will have an associate's degree in early childhood or bachelor's degree in any field of study and a positive attitude, passion for, and experience with teaching very young children.

Interested applicants should contact Sara Bucio, Child Care Director, at sbucio@ywcagreenbay.org.

Honoring Women

May has been a particularly productive month... Our Women of Vision luncheon was a great sample of the direction we're headed with our programming, community support and the pleasure derived from women connecting with each other—the sky is the limit when women support one another.

We said thank you and see you later to three members of our board of directors completing six years of service and a fourth who moved out of the area. Words cannot adequately express my appreciation for your support. Thank you for your service: Tori Szkodzinski, Sandy Fragale, Tori Kluess, and Tanessa Klug.

We are halfway through our Campaign of the Century, and we have raised about $500,000 or 1/3 of our goal (with a recent gift that we will make public soon). The month of June is set aside for the men in our community to show support for the mothers, wives, daughters and sisters they care about. Would you ask a man you know who supports women to consider partnering with the YWCA to demonstrate the value women hold in this community? We want to hear from men in our community who value the contribution women make all over greater Green Bay. What better gift and way to honor women and girls than to make a donation in their name to promote ongoing empowerment and education for women and children in your community? Or, feel free to make a donation on behalf of the man in your life that has been a role model for honoring women.

Please take a few minutes to read about the great things on the horizon and happening in our building. The YWCA is on a mission, and you matter here!

Fondly,
Renita, CEO

Operations Pals

Do you love the YWCA and our mission? Please consider partnering with us during the lean months of the summer. We have tons to accomplish and need the financial resources to move forward. Thanks in advance for believing in our mission to make greater Green Bay all it can be—one woman at a time. Visit our website to give (www.greenbayywca.org) or send your donations to 230 S. Madison Street; Green Bay, WI 54301.

Dr. Ashley Anne Workshop Series

Sat., June 15 | 8 a.m. - 12 p.m.

Tier 3: Heal You, Heal Two: The Art and Science of Healing Your Community

Even if you missed the first two tiers, you can still absorb all the wonders of this workshop series as you learn the art and science of contagious healing from Dr. Ashley Anne, owner of Lotus Healing, LLC. She will introduce you to the "social brain" and provide evidence that we are, in fact, all connected, and she'll teach you how to transfer your own healing to your family and community. We will move during this workshop, so dress casually and comfortably.

2019 YWCA Women's Empowerment Conference

SAVE THE DATE | Friday, October 18, 2019 | 7:30 a.m. - 4 p.m.

Our annual conference is to encourage dialogue to address and respond to the empowerment of women and girls, as well as to network with peers around issues that impact their lives. Join us as we learn how to identify and remove the barriers that get in the way of women and girls being everything they were created to be.

Confirmed Presenters for the Empowerment Conference:

- Ashley Anne, PhD | Founder, Lotus Healing, LLC
- Carol J. Bruess, PhD, Resident Scholar | Cassandra Voss Center, St. Norbert College
- Sarah Bucio, Child Care Director | YWCA Greater Green Bay
- Susan Dutton, CEO | Smart Relationships LLC
- Heather Faulkner, Director | Young Life Green Bay, WI
- Gail McNutt, CEO | GMM Consulting LLC
